MONTANA WILL SEND

Fourteen Delegates to the Transmississippi Congress.

MANY SPEAKERS OF NOTE

Will Gome from all Over the Country.

Secretary McKnight of the Trans-Mississippi Congress received yesterday among other delegations to the convention here the names of the Montana delegates. Among them is Senstor E. D. Matts, who became noted over the country as Marcus Duly's candidate for the United States senate against W. A. Clarke. Daly and Clark are the big copper kings of the west. The other delegates from Montana are F. E. Collins, Helena, C. B. Nolan, Helena; W. G. Conrad, Great Falls; C. K. Middleton, Miles City; A. L. Babcock, Billings; J. M. Fox, Red Lodge; J. B. Loose, Anaconda; Stephen De Wolffe, Butte. From the Billings Commercial Exchange, S. R. Mese, J. D. Losskamp, Chas. Spear, H. M Rowley.

The prospect of a great meeting increases every day. Speakers of international reputation will be here. The discussions will bear on interetate and national subjects. Arrangements are being made in several western cities to celebrate the Louisiana purchase, the purchase made by President Jefferson in 1802. As is known, that purchase was errenuously opposed, and it would be interesting to design, in one's imagination, the result that would have followed the failure of the purchase. The Louistana purchase would have separated Texas from the original states and purinteresting fight for amalgamation with the older republic. By example and political contagion, the Louisiana purchase would have become, in all probability, a western republic, breaking away from Napoleon in the hour of his dissolution. This newer western republic could not have been as grand or as mighty as the repub-Do of today, and it was a precious destiny which prevented any such division But the western republic would have been the greater nation of the two repulsios It would have had a coast line on the Gulf 235 North Main street. of Mexico and on the Pacific. TORTURING DISFIGURING HUMORS

ITCHING BURNING AND SCALY ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN AND SCALP WITH LOSS OF HAIR.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum - all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura remedies are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humor remedies of the civilized world.

Those who have suffered long and hopelessly and who have lost faith in doctors and medicines may make trial of these great curatives with the most gratifying success. The treatment is simple, direct, agreeable, and economical, and is adapted to the youngest infant as well as adults of every age. Bathe the affected parts with Hot Water and Cuticura Soap to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and lastly take the Cuticura Resolvent to cool and cleanse the blood. This sweet and wholesome treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning, and scaly humors of the skin, scalp, and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure when all other remedies and even the best physicians fail. The SET, costing $1.25, consisting of Soap, 250, Ointment, 50c., and Resolvent (half size), 50c., or each separately, may be had of all chemists and stores where medicines are sold throughout the world.

The timber and mineral resources are unlimited. Its wonderful coal supply being one of the chief reasons for the development by this line.

In climate, it is most genial and healthy Its scenery is superb, being a constant mingling of mountain, valley, forest and stream. The water supply is one of its greatest attractions, there being mountain streams throughout, with large rivers of clear water. Arkansas is famous already as being one of the best watered states in the Union.

There will be several first-class towns developed by the railroad company, among them Booneville and Magazine, in Logan county, and Ola, in Yell county.

The first-named, Booneville, will have the large Central Division, which the railroad company guarantees to establish there, while it is in the center of a very rich valley, making a most desirable location for the upbuilding of a large city From the abundance of its coal and water supply, it will undoubtedly be a manu-

I sat alone in my chamber.
Dreaming of things gone by,
And I saw, in my fancle's chamber
The portrait of a lie.

It was lark—uh, darker than midnight, And fringed with an ovli design. And I thought, as I sat there, dreaming, Can this one really be mine?

Could it be that I, God's ewe-lamb A lie like this had told? Could it be that I, in my life-time, To my breast a lie did fold? And then from out of the silence A voice I seemed to hear. A sound as of angels chanting, And I listened, in deadly fear.

Then the room seemed bathed in sunshine, A light all radiunt from heaven, And I heard an angel saxing. "Jesus your sin hath forgiven."

Story of a Wife Who Tried to Run Away.

TAKEN FROM THE TRAIN

Exciting Scene at the Santa Fe Depot Yesterday.

"Is my wife on here?" cried an excited fellow as he rushed up to the porter of the south bound Santa Fe train yesterday evening, as if the porter knew every runaway wife in Kansas.

"Conductor, you just held the train a minute till I run through," and the man hurried through the first coach and into the next one, where he found his wife snugly ensconced in a buffeted receptacle of the chair car. Beside her was a man who is supposed to have purchased her ticket to Ponca City, where they were going for a little jaunt out away from the busy city of Wichita. The husband suddenly became enraged, and jerked his wife out of the sest, through the aisle and onto the muddy ground on the west side of the

"Come along here, Samantha," said Josiah. "I'll show you how you slip away from me that way." "I wasn't slipping away," said the wife, who was so enraged and frustrated that she hardly knew what to do. The spectators were both amused and frightened, and every window in the coach was raised and out of every window was a face or two, eagerly watching the out-ome of the trouble. The couple stood outside the train in the mud parleying until the train left, the husband threatening to go in and take the man out, too. Finally the wife nerved herself up, and began to abuse her husband foudly. "You mean thing, you. I can't go anywhere but what you have to interfere. If that train wasn't gone I'd show you whether I didn't go or not!"

The crowd on the platform began to augh and the couple left for home, down the track to the little house just west of the Imboden mill. The husband carried a guitar which his wife was taking with her to execute a sacred selection of the Spanish Fandango when she and her lover arrived at Ponca City.

A reporter for the Eagle followed the ouple to the house. When once inside the wife began a tremendous line of abuse, and there was a lively scrap for ten or fifteen minutes, during which time dishes rattled and there was every evidence of a serious mix-up. The wife's sister took the guitar and left the house, sauntering around on Fourth street, and into a house which was quarantined with measies. The reporter went back to the house but the door was locked and everything was quiet. Then the sad side of the story appeared. Two little, chubby-faced chiliren stuck their cheeks up to the window and innocently gazed at the reporter. They ooked as though all the world was a concert, but there will be other days. The police say this is the home of Harry
